LONDON, Aug. 17.—A wave of speculation regarding the likelihood of immediate major American participation in large-scale air raids on Germany swept Europe today with disclosure that Brig. Gen. James H. Doolittle now is in London.

The speculation embraced the whole of the continent—including Berlin—according to information in London, mainly because of the fact that it was "Jimmy" Doolittle who led a squadron of American B-25 two-motored bombers in a historic and devastating raid on Tokyo.

Gen. Doolittle himself was averse to any speculation regarding his visit beyond the fact he is here on military duty."

Crewless Blimp Drops Into
Suburban San Francisco Street

BULLETIN
(International News Service)
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 17.—Mystery today surrounded the disappearance of two Navy men, crew members missing from the derelict blimp which drifted in from the ocean and crashed into suburban San Francisco street.

The lighter-than-air craft, its bag ripped and motors idle, came to rest in Daly City just south of San Francisco. Two crewmen, who navy officials said had been aboard the craft, were not in the blimp's cabin.
All of the craft's parachutes and the rubber life raft were still in the gondola. Two life belts, however, were missing.

The ship sank to the ground, it struck one house and two automobiles, but caused no damage. The ship's fabric completely covered one of the cars.

Navy, coast guard and civilian defense volunteers immediately instituted a search for the two missing airmen along the coast and at sea.

The navy said the blimp was equipped with a radio but no distress signal had been sent.

Plans Are Considered
For "Meatless Days"

By JAMES OLDS
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—Plans for "one or more voluntary meatless days each week" are being drawn up by agriculture department experts today to alleviate shortages until a "straight meat rationing" plan can be worked out.

Officials working on the scheme hope to have it approved by the War Production Board's foods requirements committee tomorrow.

The committee headed by Secretary of Agriculture Wickard, will meet then to decide what immediate rationing measures must be taken to solve the nation's meat distribution problem.

Agriculture sources said that the expedited "meatless day" program is needed now to tide over "scarcity areas" until the seasonal October rise in livestock slaughter brings relief.

"The program should be ended at about the middle of October," they said, "even though the actual meat rationing plan may not be ready for operation until some time in January."

Three Survivors Of 20 In Plane Crash

Army Plane In Worst Disaster

Crash Occurs In Berkshires
Over Week-End—Plane
On Routine Mission

INVESTIGATION OF DISASTER OPENS

(International News Service)

PERU, Mass., Aug. 17.—One of the worst tragedies in United States military aviation today had left only three survivors among 20 occupants of an army transport plane which crashed in flames Saturday night on the 2,200-foot Garnet Peak on Peru mountain in the Berkshires. Army officials said the plane was on a routine mission out of Pope Field, Ft. Bragg, N. C., and had made an intermediate stop at Mitchell Field, N. Y.

Sergeant Robert Lee of Columbus, O., one of the survivors, heroically saved two privates. His clothing completely burned from his body, Lee made two trips from the blazing wreckage to succor four others. These included Pvt. James Fern, of Abington, Va., and Pvt. Alonzo Pearson, of Windber, Somerset County, Pa. They were at hospital in Pittsfield, Mass., and their chances for recovery are good, attachés said. Two others Lee carried from the burning debris later were discovered already dead.

Lee, signalling for state police aid by firing several shots from his revolver, later was taken to another hospital in Pittsfield and he had an even chance for recovery, it was said.

Army officials said that an investigation of the crash had been started and that meanwhile some of the seventeen bodies already had been removed from the charred wreckage.

Less Hot Water For New York

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Aug. 17.—New Yorkers must struggle along for the duration of the war with less hot water for bathing, shaving and dish washing, Mayor P. H. LaGuardia advised today.

Because of the fuel shortage in the east, the mayor said, apartment house tenants will be given hot water only between 6:30 and 9 a. m. and 5 and 8 p. m.

The hot water rationing will become effective next week, it was said.

LONDON, Aug. 17.—The Japanese-controlled Saigon radio reported today that "Chinese aircraft" had raided the Indo-China port of Haiphong and the capital of Hanoi. No details of the attack were given.

United States Army Air Force planes, rather than Chinese craft, probably carried out the bombings since they are known to have attacked these points previously.

BOMBAY, Aug. 17.—Thousands of Moslems met today in a public mass meeting, following the blunt warning of their leader that if Britain temporizes or compromises with pressure of Mohandas K. Gandhi's Congress party, the Moslems would "resist to the utmost."

in the land, sea and air operations in the Solomons the greatest victory yet achieved against the Japanese.

Attain Initial Objectives

"It must be realized that the United States hold upon this area cannot be secure until Allied Naval units inflict a crushing defeat on the main Japanese fleet or until it is possible to develop newly-won air bases to a stage when it will permit land-based aircraft there to beat off sea attacks...

"It seems reasonable to assume that the Allies have achieved their major initial objectives."

The Yorkshire Post's naval correspondent confirmed previous advices that the Marine landings took the Japanese entirely by surprise. The Japanese were attacked before they had time to make adequate preparations to meet an offensive assault.

The Solomons victory, this correspondent said, represented fulfillment of the first phase of an offensive attack upon the long line of Japanese island bases extending in an arc north of Australia and presenting a constant invasion threat to the island continent.

RETRIBUTION BY NIGHT

QUADRON LEADER G. L. CHESHIRE of the Royal Air Force is gitted with imagination. His account of the bombing of Mainz has a poetic quality that distinguished it from the common run of military reports. Cheshire was not on bombing duty—he had an assignment as an observer. Far above the Lancaster and Halifax bombers he watched the play of incendiaries and explosives over this key railroad center of the Rhine.

A flare, signal for the attack to begin, illuminated the city below. "For twenty minutes," said Cheshire, "the pattern of bomb bursts flickered ceaselessly across the objectives like lights in a pinball game. The blast of explosions seemed literally to be rocking the ground beneath our eyes."

In orthodox practice similes usually point a comparison between something small and something much greater. Occasionally a daring writer reverses the process. Byron did it in his famous stanza beginning, "The sky is changed—and such a change!" The lightning flashes of the gathering storm were like "the light of a dark eye in woman."

Squadron Leader Cheshire found a more homely figure, but it is valid. The great panorama beneath him shrank to the proportions of a livingroom table, and the bursts of the bombs flickered "like lights in a pinball game." That visualizes the scene for anyone who can meet the speaker half way in imagination. In those high altitudes, surrounded by darkness, special limits lose their meaning. One rests in a vacuum, hardly aware of movement, while fireflies (or make it pinball lights) sparkle a few feet (or is it miles?) below.

Hundreds of tons of bombs, including 50,000 incendiaries, fell that night on the busy city of Mainz. It is democracy speaking, a democracy that at last is bringing home to the Nazis the inescapable fact that violence breeds violence, that a German dies as quickly as an Englishman or as any non-Aryan.

BUYING THE BONDS

Although the people of the United States didn't quite reach their July quota of a billion dollars in War Bonds, but they came close enough to permit the hope that the year beginning July 1 will see $12,000,000 invested in these securities. During the first month War Bond sales amounted to $900,000,000.

Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau has no intention of trying to maintain a flat scale of a billion dollars' worth a month. Seasonal variations in income make such a plan impractical. For that reason the August quota has been set at $815,000,000. But in subsequent months that $185,000,000 shortage plus the $99,000,000 deficit in July will have to be made up if the treasury's schedule is followed.

July showed a notable gain over June in the purchase of Series "E" War Bonds, the type designed for men with moderate incomes. With more than half a billion dollars tucked away for safe keeping in Series "E" during the thirty-one days of July, it becomes evident that payroll deductions were responsible. At the present time 110,000 concerns employing an aggregate of 25,000,000 persons are operating on the pay deduction plan for War Bonds purchases.

Financing the war is a gigantic undertaking, but the American people will be equal to it whatever the cost.

MEATLESS DAYS

The Office of Price Administration, the New York City Department of Markets, and a number of retail organizations all join in warning American housewives of impending food shortages. Meat products, especially beef-pork and lamb, will not be plentiful enough to avoid meatless days, whether or not those days are decreed by government. Lack of supply will impose its own rationing system.

Somehow the prospect of meatless days is not particularly alarming, although a certain amount of uneasiness may result from finding the butcher's cupboard bare. Americans lived through the First World War without too much discomfort from meat shortages, and many meat substitutes have been developed, obviating the fear of malnutrition. Eggs, cheese and milk, beans and certain grain products will take the place of meat in the diet by providing protein.

Fish soon will be growing scarce. Not only are fishermen abandoning their occupation because of war service or danger from submarines, but the government is taking most of the remaining catches. Rice, too, will be hard to get, but that shortage will not affect many Americans seriously. Harder to take is the threatened rationing of tea, coffee, spices and some tropical fruits.

Although there is no great crisis at the present time, housewives are warned to make the most of their foods. Americans waste more food than any other people. Too generous helpings are dished out, left-overs are thrown away, expensive meat cuts are ordered when cheaper ones would serve just as well.

A little discretion and economy now may postpone the arrival of meatless days and rationed food.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

FIRST DAY AT SCHOOL

During the few remaining weeks before school starts parents can do a great deal to prepare a child for entering his first year.

You want him to be physically strong and healthy. You have had him carefully checked by your doctor and dentist, let us hope, and have had any medical or dental attention they recommended taken care of. You have held this child rigidly to ample and regular hours of sleep and have guided him in good eating habits.

You have been advised from time to time by your doctor concerning his diet and you also have learned much, no doubt, from reading good books on child care, and from studying the free courses offered by the local Red Cross in nutrition, first aid and home care and nursing. Also from such sources you may have gained necessary help in cultivating a good appetite in this child.

Normal Play Life

Let us hope that your child has had good training at home in safety and citizenship; that he has learned the meaning of NO, respect for the rights of others, and regard for constituted authority.

If this child, moreover, has had a normal play life with other children his age, fighting his own battles and settling his own quarrels, he should have little or no trouble getting along at school with other children. It would be fortunate if he could play with some of the children he will see in school during the summer.

Some of the older children, even some unwise adults, might try to tease him now by picturing his teacher as a kind of ogre and some of his schoolmates as fearful bullies. You should handle this matter with tact.

Eagerness to Learn

Being a kind sympathetic, patient, understanding and compassionate parent, you have for years been cultivating in this child curiosity and eagerness to learn, ease of expression and zeal to create, never laughing at his questions or remarks but answering them kindly and listening attentively, conversing with him freely; reading to him every day, listening to his yarns of fancy and enjoying his creations with words and things. You have provided him with ample, though not necessarily expensive, toys and tools and a place to make things.

Treated so, your child should be able to look forward hopefully and happily to his first day at school, one of the greatest events of his whole life time.

Solving Parent Problems

Q How much advice should parents give their children about their grandchildren?

A No more than is requested. Even then it is well to be sparing with advice, if good results are your chief aim.

Axis May Minimize Its Successes

Believe Deep Purpose Back Of Move
Learn More About Reverses In Russia

By CHARLES P. STEWART

Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON—Propaganda students are noting more publicity to the Germans' successes on their Russian front than Berlin does.

Possibly the Nazi command brags adequately for home consumption but it isn't boastful in its broadcasts to the United Nations. In fact it almost seems inclined to minimize the extent of the progress that Axis forces undoubtedly have made into Soviet territory. The Kremlin, however, appears anxious actually to emphasize the seriousness of the situation from the Allies' standpoint.

But military men don't interpret this as indicating any excess modesty on Adolf Hitler's part or undue alarm on Josef Stalin's.

They think it represents sound policy in both cases.

It's well recognized that what the Muscovite chief commissar wants is more help than he has been getting from Uncle Sam and Britain. Notably he is anxious for that second front's creation against the Nazis—and Fascists also, though they don't matter so much. Hence the urgency of his warning to Washington and London that there is danger they will be too late unless they act very speedily.

PAY OFF YOUR DEBTS

... Here's how a Household loan can help you clean up your old bills on a monthly payment plan

Do you need some extra cash? Would you like to pay off old bills as part of your wartime financial program? This advertisement tells about a simple plan which is helping many men and women with their present day money problems.

Suppose you need $100 for an emergency or to pay off debts. You can get the money in a quick, simple transaction. Then you may repay on a regular monthly payment plan. At the end of a definite time you are entirely in the clear. The payment plan thus becomes a personal debt paying program.

The cost of this service is reasonable. Suppose you borrow $100 and repay in six monthly installments of $18.15 each, a total of $108.90. The cost of your loan is just $8.90. $50 loan, repaid in six monthly installments of $9.08 each, a total of $54.48, costs only $4.48.

This service has been specially designed for folks with jobs. Many people have no car, furniture or other security on which to borrow. And they hate to ask friends to sign notes. Salary loans give these people an opportunity to borrow on earning ability and willingness to repay. When you get a salary loan you merely give us your personal note. We take no wage assignment of any kind. And no endorsers are required. We make many loans on other plans. The principal requirement is a job or other source of income. Even when we consider car and furniture loans, we consider character and regular income far more important than the actual value of your security.

Loans for many purposes

You may use a Household loan to pay a doctor or dentist bill, insurance, installment contracts, old-store bills, car repairs, union fees, a training course, tools, moving expense, coal for winter, and for expenses of many other kinds.

You may repay your loan on almost any plan you wish. The table shows how loans may be repaid in 2 to 12 payments. The sooner you repay, the less your loan costs. Look in the table now for the loan you need. See how you may repay out of monthly income.

Payments in the table include charges at Household's rate of 2½% per month on that part of a loan balance not exceeding $100, and 2½% per month on that part of a balance in excess of $100.

This rate is substantially below the maximum permitted by the Pennsylvania Small Loan Law. Lower operating costs permit us to give our customers the advantage of a lower rate. Compare rates and costs before you borrow anywhere. Why pay more for your loan than you have to?

If you can make good use of a loan, see us at once. Or just phone and tell us how much you need.

Wall Collapses; Man Is Trapped

Broken Neck Sustained In Accident By Pittsburgh Man Over Week-End

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 17.—Daniel Monache, 59, of suburban Beechview, was in a local hospital today suffering from a broken neck and exposure sustained when he was pinned under the debris of a collapsed retaining wall throughout Saturday night and Sunday morning.

The victim, whose repeated calls for help throughout the night went unheeded, was without protection from heavy rains and mud which washed down upon him.

He was discovered by children who were playing on a hillside above him. The children ran for aid and found two radio patrolmen cruising nearby.

Monache told police he was working atop the wall, cutting stone, when he slipped and tumbled 10 feet to the bottom. The wall immediately caved in upon him.

Wood Is Assuming More Vital Role In War Program

It is Now Being Used In Such Articles As Training Planes And Small Fighting Boats

By PHILLIPS J. PECK

(L. N. S. Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON—Used in a long list of articles from training planes to bomb bay doors, wood today is challenging the metals for a place at the military front—chiefly because of the development of plastic-plywood.

The increasing military importance of wood has been emphasized by the war production board in a series of orders clamping down on the sale of mahogany for commercial uses, lifting restrictions on imports of mahogany logs and balsa wood from Mexico and Central America and "freezing" construction lumber for use of the armed forces.

Officials pointed out that wood is going into construction of training planes, small fighting boats and other weapons ordinarily thought of in terms of steel and aluminum—that charcoal is used in gas masks, cellulose in gun powder, turpentine in flame throwers and resin for packing shrapnel in shells.

Plastic-Plywood

Development of plastic-plywood intensified the military importance of wood. Descended from the laminated woods of ancient Egypt, plywood is fabricated by cohering numerous sheets of thin wood, their grains crossing at right angles, with synthetic resin glues under heat and pressure.

The result is a material which, pound for pound, has greater tensile strength than steel, greater resistance to fire, oil and water. An experimental plastic-plywood training plane, excepting for its motor, instruments and landing-gear, is 90 per cent wood and plastic glue.

Builders of such craft contend that the wings resist icing; the fuselages dampen vibration and noise; the hard, smooth surface does not warp or buckle and needs no rivets, thus cutting down "all drag," and that bullets make clean holes instead of "flowering" as they do on striking metals.

In one model, plywood was used for the fuel tanks. This type of construction, officials explain, cuts the requirements of aluminum alloy by 75 per cent, while adding only 3 per cent to the gross weight of the plane.

Plywood also is used in the hulls of small torpedo boats, bomb bay doors of bombing planes, luggage racks of military buses and experimentally for nuts, bolts, washers and gears.

Other military uses for wood:

Walnut stocks for Garand rifles; walnut veneer for ceiling and Navy desks and household furniture in military quarters; balsa wood for ammunition cartons, life-rafts and other items where maximum strength for minimum weight is desired.

OPEN SESSIONS OF CONVENTION

it also and when you leave we hope you leave feeling that we have been good hosts.

"As mayor of the city I welcome all of you upon behalf of the officials and citizens of New Castle. I trust you accomplish the purposes you have in mind for this convention. If there is anything we can do here to aid you, all you need do is ask. If perhaps any of you get one of our yellow tags on your automobile, either leave it at the police station or mail it back to me. We do not want to tag your car but if it happens, I will be glad to take care of it."

State President

Mr. DiAndrea responded briefly to the mayor's address and then introduced the state president, Heyman E. Carletti of Pittsburgh, who took charge. "This is an epochal year," said Mr. Carletti. "This is a year when Italian Sons and Daughters of America must and will reaffirm their Americanism. We are an American organization, and our actions must conform to our words. I know they will. It is pleasant to see so many of you here in New Castle. I know the convention proceedings will be harmonious."

President Carletti then introduced the national president, John S. Aldisert, of Carnegie. "This is a grand convention," said Mr. Aldisert, "and your local committee is to be congratulated for its outstanding work. We must bear our share of the burden of war, we must do everything within our power to aid the efforts of our government."

Other Speakers

J. B. Fortunato, termed the "first citizen of the order" and formerly national president, was introduced and spoke briefly as did State Senator Anthony J. DiSilvestro of Philadelphia, the vice president of the state organization.

Present at the convention are former state and national officers, the state council and a number of visitors. The morning session adjourned at 12:30 for lunch. At 2 this afternoon the second session was scheduled to start at which time committees will be appointed and reports heard from the national and state officers. The evening is free for the delegates to enjoy themselves.

Tuesday's session will be in the morning only. In the afternoon an outing will be held in Cascade park. The convention will close Wednesday afternoon with the election of national and state officers, followed by installation of them. A social session will be held Wednesday night in The Castleton.

Apparently the last official comment on the Aleutians will be as usual: "We didn't think the Japs could do it."

general rule in large cities of the nation, a considerable number now following the store opening hours that were adopted in New Castle some months ago.

Annual task of cutting down the weeds along the improved highways of Lawrence county is well in progress.

Work on the cut-off connecting highway of route 18 around New Wilmington has resulted in a detour on the highway at Neshaupock cemetery west of New Wilmington. The course of the highway at the intersection is being somewhat altered. The detour starts in New Wilmington and joins route 18 several miles north of the college town.

Jack L. Locke of Crawford avenue had an almost perfect bridge hand while playing with Sally Loudon, George Loudon, and Ruth Chapman, one evening last week, but for the purpose at hand, it was perfect, because he had 12 Diamonds, and the ace of spades. His partner had the missing diamond, but he didn't need it, of course. He bid seven Diamonds, which was doubled, so you figure out how much they made.

Pennsylvania Railroad employees are taking out the crossing rails on South Mill street and will put in a straight track at that point.

Apparently some kind of traffic count of vehicles is being made on highways in this section of the state. Apparatus is located along the routes that seems to be checking traffic.

Gladiolus season is in full progress. Thousands of these beautiful blooms are to be seen in flower gardens in this district.

Workmen have been engaged for several days in oiling the top surface of the New Wilmington road from Highland avenue extension to the college town vicinity. The work is about completed. Pa Newc is informed.

There is an immense crop of elberries in evidence along the highways of this county. It is observed. It will be too bad if this crop is not fully harvested and the berries preserved for later use.

ONE IS KILLED; THREE INJURED IN CAR MISHAP

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Aug. 17.—One man was dead today and three other people were in a serious condition at a Pittsburgh hospital after they were struck by an inbound trolley car which split a switch and shot onto another track.

The dead man was Nick Sollas, 62, of suburban Mt. Washington. Death resulted from hemorrhages and internal injuries.

The injured are Mrs. Mary Fritz, 29, of Dormont; Mrs. Helen Drebis, 32; of Mt. Oliver, and her six-year-old daughter, Margaret Ann. Elmer Drebis was with his wife and child but escaped injury.

Peter Borghini, 26, operator of the trolley, told detectives he was emerging from a tunnel when he saw a woman on the track his car normally would take. To avoid striking her, he said, he turned the power on in order to send the car on a different spur.

It was on the second track that the four were standing and apparently they were unable to move out of the way before the trolley struck them.

Labor Peace Parleys Will Be Resumed

By JACK VINCENT
(I.N.S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON. Aug. 17.—The nation's topflight labor leaders began returning to Washington today for a meeting to set the time and place for resumption of peace conferences between the AFL and the CIO.

For the first time John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers and founder of the CIO, will be on the sidelines in the peace talks.

The CIO committee will be composed of CIO Head Philip Murray, Julius Einckson, president of the Electrical Radio and Machine Workers Union, and R. J. Thomas, chief of the United Automobile Workers.

The AWL committee will be made up of Harry Bates, president of the bricklayers; William "Big Bill" Hutchison, head of the Carpenters' Union, and Dan Tobin, president of the Teamsters' Union.

Under pressure from the White House, the job of resuming labor peace talks was discussed in Chicago last week by William Green, AFL president, and Philip Murray. Green was in the midwest city to attend a meeting of the AFL's executive council and Murray was there to address a convention of the auto workers.

Cardinals Win Two; Slash Dodgers' Lead

Al Javerry Trips Brooklyn On One Hit, 2-0; Buccos Sink Twice

GIANTS BATTER PHILLIES AGAIN

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Aug. 17.—St. Louis squared off with Cincinnati today with high hopes that the Reds would prove as cooperative as they did yesterday when the Cardinals won both ends of a doubleheader, 10 to 5 and 6 to 3. The double victories pushed the Red Birds to within eight games of the Dodgers for the National league lead. Brooklyn having lost to Boston, 2 to 0, in seven innings of what had been declared a doubleheader.

Four Cincinnati errors gave the Cardinals six unearned runs and Max Lanier his ninth victory in the first game. Rookie Johnny Beazley chalked up his fourteenth win in the nightcap, helping his own cause with a ringing single that started a rally in the fifth frame.

Al Javerry turned the bewildered Dodgers every way but loose. The big right-hander permitted only one hit, a single by Dixie Walker in the fifth inning.

Kirby Higbe was the victim of the fancy play of the Braves.

Cinncinati took both ends of a doubleheader from Pittsburgh, 5 to 1 and 4 to 1. Bill Lee scored his twelfth victory in the opener and Les Fleming allowed only two hits to win the nightcap.

Harry Feldman relieved and gained credit for the hair-line win.

Two For Boston

In the American league, Boston made it four straight over Washington by taking both ends of a twin feature, 6 to 4 and 10 to 3. In the first game, Bill Butland held the Senators to seven scattered hits, while the Red Sox were gathering 11 off Walter Masterson during the seven innings he stayed on the mound.

Terry walked eight Nats in the night-marsh nightcap, but held them to only four hits, with two of their three runs being scored on errors.

The New York Yankees had only six innings to do damage to Philadelphia but that was enough time for an 11 to 2 runway. Joe DiMaggio and Joe Gordon both hit for the circuit as the Yanks blasted 14 hits off three Athletic hurlers.

Detroit took both ends of a doubleheader from Chicago, 3 to 2 in 11 innings and 7 to 3. The Tigers were trailing 1 to 0 going into the ninth inning of the first game when a double by Rudy York and Pinky Higgins single tied the score. Two more singles won the game.

Cleveland split with St. Louis, the Indians coping the opener, in 11 innings, 3 to 2, and losing the finale, 6 to 1.

Revise Method For Bomb Fires

Fire Chief Thomas Announces Change In Incendiary Bomb Technique

HEAVY STREAM OF WATER USED

New instructions for dealing with fire bombs have been issued by the U.S. Office of Civilian Defense, according to Fire Chief James E. Thomas, district fire warden.

"These revised instructions," he explained today, "are the results of extensive research by technicians of OCD and the Chemical Warfare Service of the U.S. Army. The major change in procedure calls for the use of a direct stream of water on the bomb instead of the spray hitherto recommended. Also the need for speed is emphasized, in attacking the bomb with a jet of water as soon as it starts rather than waiting for the thermit reaction to be completed or for a 'burster' charge to go off."

Chief Thomas stated that, "Our own experiments and recent experience in Great Britain have shown it to be absolutely necessary to change our procedure in attacking incendiary bombs. The jet method is quicker and more effective. Actually the fire it starts is more dangerous than the bomb, and the quickest and surest way to reduce that danger is to strike the bomb with a jet of water. This puts the bomb out of action in less than one minute so that, if necessary, other fire bombs can be attacked before they can start serious fires. With the new method we will save more lives and more property in the event of a raid. That is the only sound criterion for judging the matter."

The new instructions, reduced to essentials, are as follows:

1. Bring your fire fighting equipment to the scene at once.

2. Shoot a jet of water directly at the bomb without delay, to put it out of action quickly.

3. Then use the jet, quickly, to quench fragments and the remains of the bomb, and any fires that might have been started.

4. Be absolutely sure the fire is out before you leave the scene.

5. Use a coarse spray only where scattering of metal must be avoided.

6. Use sand only if a bomb falls where it is not likely to start a fire or if water is not available.

Hofmeister Closes P. & L. E. Career

Service Of Edenburg Man, Active In Civic Work, Spanned 44 Years

J. F. Hofmeister, widely known Edenburg resident, is retiring after 44 years' service with the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie Railroad.

Until a heart attack a few weeks ago compelled him to terminate his career, Mr. Hofmeister had not thought of retirement. He began work as a laborer October 16, 1897 when "diamond-stacked" locomotives, link and pin couplers, flat cars and windlass wreck trains, 700-ton trains and 70-pound rail were in use.

Mr. Hofmeister became foreman of track in 1901 and assistant supervisor of track in 1919. He advanced to supervisor of track in 1928 and continued in that capacity until a few years ago when he chose less strenuous work instead of accepting a transfer to Pittsburgh.

His civic activities have been in the presidency of the Lawrence County Taxpayers league, the presidency of the Edenburg Parent-Teacher association and the presidency of the Mahoning Township Sunday school association. He has been a lifelong member of Edenburg Christian church, and is a trustee and Sunday school teacher there.

Mr. Hofmeister's plans call for a vacation in other climes when his improvement permits travel.
